The agent for change

“Change is the only constant”

The generation has changed, the human mind has changed, millennials are charged with creativity. They want to explore, they want to experiment, there is no fear of failure, they want to tread the road seldom travelled. And often that is the road to be on. They work for play and not pay alone. It is often the agent of change that must be welcomed.

Atmosphere strives to be that agent!

Trust

“Can you promise the monkey two bananas’ tomorrow in exchange for the one he has today?”

The monkey does not know trust, we do. Only when every person is seen as a trustee of the company’s vision rather than a number on the balance sheet, is when we can harness that trust. Trust needs transparency.

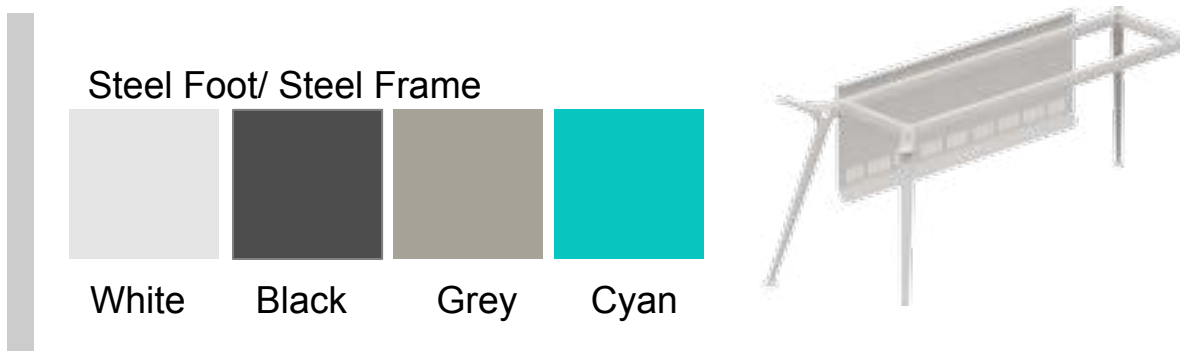

Atmosphere designs are transparent, and help you instill trust every day.
