The agent for change

“Change is the only constant”

The generation has changed, the human mind has changed, millennials are charged with creativity. They want to explore, they want to experiment, there is no fear of failure, they want to tread the road seldom travelled. And often that is the road to be on. They work for play and not pay alone. It is often the agent of change that must be welcomed.

Atmosphere strives to be that agent!
